PRE2 / LESSON 18

Wings before Breakfast

READ & THINK

Are these wings for an angel?

No, they are for a dragon in a school play.

I repair costumes.

I can fix broken wings, but I cannot make them fly.

This morning, an actor brings a torn tail.

"Don't miss breakfast," I say.

"Your dragon can wait ten minutes!"

"Your dragon can wait ten minutes!"

1. What is this story mainly about?

A. Cooking breakfast for a school club
B. Making a flying machine for an actor
C. Repairing costumes for a school play

2. What does an actor bring this morning?

A. A new pair of wings
B. A torn tail
C. A broken crown

3. Choose the best word for the blank.

I _____ costumes.

A. repair B. wear C. collect

4. Why are the wings needed?

Write one complete sentence.

5. What costume would you like to wear in a play?